B. McKeen's the same day.

Along the Kennebec

By Frederick Marshall Davis

The click of typewriters, strains of music, surging crowds and crowded corridors were not all that was to be seen and heard at the Maine State Capitol Building at Augusta one day recently. The Governor's reception was being held that afternoon and although I had lived in Maine nearly half a hundred years, it was my first visit there. Although a reception was being held, the state business was being transacted in its usual bustling manner and no avenues closed. Instead, each had free access to all parts of the building, anywhere from the basement to the high dome that towered overhead.

Would say—business had called me there that day, I was not an invited guest but I was accosted by the Governor, I was made welcome at the place where new bills are presented, where old laws are repealed and new ones are made, where bright men greet you, where portraits of our greatest statesmen adorn the rugged walls, where we stand for a moment with battle flags, although faded, tattered and torn, they bring to mind the grim struggle of 1861 when life-blood was shed to abolish slavery, when Lincoln fought the noble fight for freedom, no wonder his name is on the lips of the people this day and forever.

WEST LOVELL

George Guphill has bought a Ford truck. Alexander Larocque has painted his house. Henry Gray of Fryeburg spent a few days last week at George Guphill's. Charles Merrill has shingled and painted his house. George Fox helped him. Mrs. Bessie Irish has returned to her home. She has spent the winter in Portland with her daughter, and at Malden, Mass., with her other daughter, Helen. Those who have books from West Lovell Library are requested to bring them in.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bowley and Paul went to Gardiner, Saturday, to visit Mrs. Bowley's mother, Mrs. Eliza Lord, and sisters, Lillian and Nellie, and returned, Sunday.

Mrs. Helen McAllister went to Fryeburg, Friday afternoon, to visit her mother, Lena Haley, and returned Sunday. Mrs. Hattie Noble visited her brother, Z. McAllister, and family, Sunday.

The Sophomores gave an invitation dance in the high school gymnasium, Friday night, April 22, for the benefit of their class.

The river itself, although second in rank among the three largest rivers that drain the hills of Maine, seems to put on a look of pride by having the distinction of flowing through Maine's capitol city, that like many other cities along its banks, have taken advantage of its industrial functions and made plans to harness and utilize its power in the working world.

It was a spectacle to be remembered, to watch the people as they stood arm in arm or crowded their way through long corridors while some, like the leaning tower of Pisa, mounted ten or twenty feet above, to lean on a gigantic iron railing and gaze down through the circle or opening at their feet and by so doing, obtained a more pleasing view of the multitude below.

I visited the museum where every kind of fish and animal life found in Maine were represented and I could but realize the greatness of the law that protects these specimens of our native waters and our hunting grounds of vast acreage. I believe there would be harm in passing a bill to become a law that would legalize public sports being held on Sunday. I believe we are not in need of having Sunday as a national holiday for sporting or gaming. It has already been said that the year, seemingly, would be one continuous holiday season. We know full well that we scarcely observe the national holidays that we already have and when such a written law is doing so, a dangerous machine is set in motion. Why should we be interested in burrowing in deeper, to undermine the stars that support the foundation of peace and protection.

Maine today is looked up to and much respected on account of her good laws and principles.

In the passing of the Lord's Day it is sure in a few years hence, to bring regret, it is sure to bring sorrow and at the same time endanger the lives of the people. The fact that the state of Maine collects three cents on each gallon of gasoline that is sold on Sunday should not be used as a tool or instrument in making a beginning to work against the welfare of mankind. Let us not haste the time, but instead stave off the distant future, when laws, money or principle may have no meaning. To repeal, or in other words, to do away with the so-called Old Blue Laws of Maine, only means a long stride on the downward road, a road that none of us should care to travel.

Since the popular days of the well known so-called livery stable, it is easy to recall the fact that money for many years has been paid for conveyance on Sunday and nothing strange or different in this respect has taken place since the birth of the automobile. I believe we are not in need of more national holidays, it is easy for me to recall that, although being in a town of three thousand people on Armistice Day, last year, I did not witness a celebration. Did I hear the roar of cannons? Did rockets pierce the air? Did any thing take place in most small towns any more than any ordinary Sunday? No, of course not.

Armistice Day, seemingly, is fast being forgotten, we like to forget the horror of war but how can we, as sane people, be unmindful of this day, the day that means so much to you and me. We do not lack for holidays. If I remember correctly, I would refer to Henry Clay, when I say, "Give me Sunday, or give me death."

Most of us know that the radio affects in a great measure, the parish of the church, it trigs the wheels of religion, the way that churches are shunned and neglected of late is quite noticeable in some places. Ministers are effected, they lack courage in their fight to go on with their daily task, in their efforts to broaden minds and save lives of people.

The "Monkey Bill" up to the present time seems to have not been looked upon with interest and no hearing upon the measure has yet been taken.

Evolution, with me, is about as popular as raising corn in Venice and nothing, as yet has ever made me think that men sprang from monkeys. No doubt that men act like monkeys and resemble them perhaps more than any other living things but deliver me from such a crude idea in speaking in behalf of people of the civilized world.

There are nearly as many kinds of monkeys as there are kinds of men and the same thing predominates in most all species on the earth. It has been said that man is the masterpiece and reigns supreme in power of knowledge among earthly living things. Monkeys do the brilliant things that men have taught them and nothing more. Can I teach a monkey to read a book? Can I produce something of a ninety per cent. higher standard than I am myself? No, of course not. We may as well say, what did a monkey spring from? He sprang from himself and nothing more except, now and then, from the bars overhead and nothing more. Can I teach ideas are contrary to God and the Bible, they are almost a crime, we already have enough things to teach and learn that comes under the head of reasonable education and I believe that just how long

KITCHEN KOOK

The Ideal Cook Stove

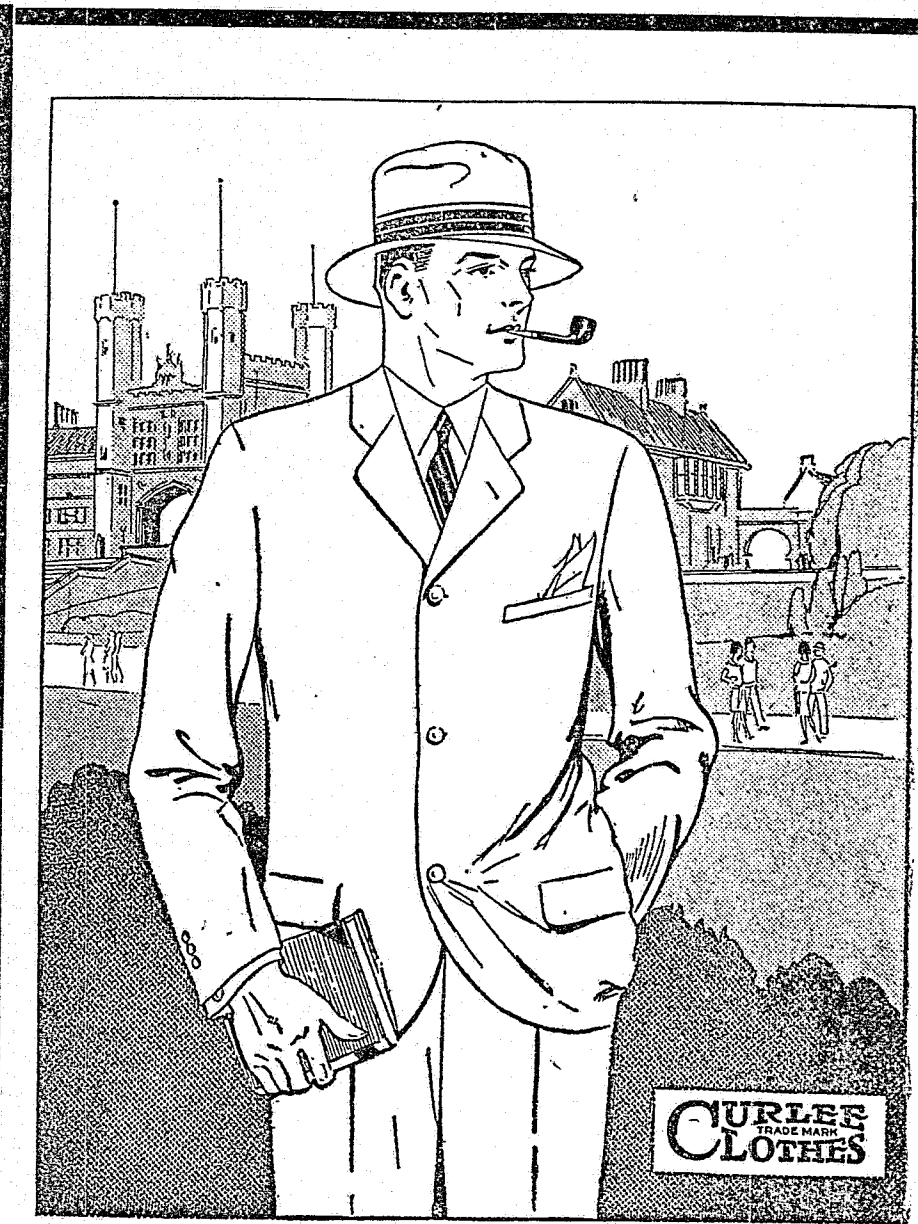

The service you want in a kitchen stove you get in the Albert Lea Kitchen Kook. It brings you all the convenience and cleanliness of city gas with greater speed at less cost.

The Albert Lea Kitchen Kook is entirely different from other liquid fuel stoves and from 50 to 100 per cent faster by actual test. Makes its own gas from common motor gasoline. The master burner may be turned on full force within two minutes from the scratch of the match. Additional burners turned on or off like city gas. No delays, no smoke, soot or odor. Has no wicks nor chimneys, requires no cleaning.

Let us give you a demonstration. No obligation.

NORTH WATERFORD

Daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Thurston married at Wesley's Chapel, London, England.

On Thursday, April 14th, Miss Esther Victoria Thurston and Rev. Gaius Jack Slosser were united in marriage at the historic Wesley's Chapel, City Road, London. The wedding was informal, their only attendants being Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Poole, president of the World's S. S. Association and pastor of Christ's Church, London.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. A. Sharp, director of publications for Wesleyanism, assisted by Rev. G. H. MacNeil, pastor of Wesley's Chapel.

After her graduation from the High School in South Manchester, Conn., Miss Thurston completed the course in the New Britain, Conn. Normal School. In 1920 she was graduated from the College of Liberal Arts, Boston University, having been Junior Proctor, president of the Y. W. C. A. and editor of the College Annual. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

From Sept. 1920 until August 1925 she was in Japan as a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Since her return to this country she has done Field Work and been the English Branch Supt. of the Young People's work of that organization.

Mr. Slosser is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, and also of the School of Theology, Boston University, from which he received the degree of S. T. B. and S. T. M. He served as pastor in West Medford, Holyoke, and Natick, also was chaplain of the 21st Engineers, U. S. A. during the World War. He is a Mason and Odd Fellow.

After June 1926, Mr. Slosser returned to England where he matriculated for his Ph. D. degree at King's College, London University. For the duration of that work Mr. Slosser was in charge of the pastorate of the Lower Clapton Congregational Church, Amhurst Road, London, E. 8.

Mr. Slosser's parents are not living. He is a native of Ohio. Miss Thurston is the daughter of Rev. Jason F. Thurston, formerly of the Federated Churches of Waterford, Stoneham, and Albany.

The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Thurston will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed minister to the Milton Mills Methodist Episcopal Church, and began his pastorate April 17th. Mrs. Thurston is teaching in Center Ossipee. Mr. Thurston was pleasantly surprised with a large number of birthday greetings, on April 16, from North Waterford and East Stoneham friends.

HARTFORD

There was special music at the M. E. Church for Easter and an Easter sermon by the pastor, Rev. Charles Whynot. OUR FLAG

Over our capitol, floating high, We see our flag as we pass by. There are seven red stripes as red as blood. The other six are white, like the snow on a flood. Then there is a piece of star-studded sky. In the corner, with forty-eight stars to gladden the eye. You may search and search the whole world through. But you will find none so dear as the Red, White and Blue.

HARRY HARTZ.

5,000 miles in less than 5,000 minutes

In a sensational test made at Culver City, California, under the auspices of the American Automobile Association, The Commander, a strictly stock enclosed car, ran 5,000 miles in 4,909 minutes, total elapsed time—better than mile-a-minute speed for 81 consecutive hours and 49 minutes—the fastest speed for the farthest distance ever attained by any stock car!

Repairs Negligible

This is equivalent in stress and strain to 25,000 miles of ordinary driving. Yet in establishing this and nine intervening world records, the only replacements and repairs necessary on The Commander were three grease cups (damaged by hasty greasing), one spark plug, and one tire change.

Champion Driver Praises Champion Car

Harry Hartz had bought a Commander Victoria for his personal car prior to his participation in the establishment of ten new world records. So there is real knowledge back of his statement that The Studebaker Commander will "maintain any given speed up to sixty-five miles per hour, longer, more smoothly and at less expense per hour traveled for gasoline, oil and repairs than any other stock automobile now being built in the United States."

Drive Commander Yourself

To know the real thrill of Studebaker Big Six performance, its flashing speed, giant power, and finger-tip ease of handling, you must drive a Commander yourself. Only with your own hands on the wheel, your own foot on the throttle, can you fully appreciate why the Studebaker Big Six now far out-sells the combined totals of all other cars in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower—why we say and how we prove that The Commander will out-perform and out-live any other car, six or eight, selling for less than $2500.

An exact duplicate of the champion Commander is waiting for you at our show room. See it—drive it—today.

Commander Models and their One-Price Prices

PETER'S DENIAL AND REPENTANCE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:53, 54, 66-71; Luke 22:54, 62.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.
PRIMARY TOPIC.—Peter Grieves Jesus and to Sorrow.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC.—How Jesus is Denied Today.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC.—The Danger of Sudden Temptations.

I. Peter's Downfall (Mark 14:29-71).
This began when he refused to hear about the cross and ended when he, with a foul oath, declared: "I know not the man." When the disciples would no longer hear Christ's message about the cross, they turned away to grow in knowledge, but they began to deteriorate in moral discernment and were exposed to the possibility of the shameful denial of their Lord. Steps in Peter's backsliding:

1. Overweening self-confidence (vv. 29-31).
His unwillingness to face the cross alienated him from Jesus and he applied of the fact that the disciples would all forsake Jesus, Peter declared that Jesus was certainly mistaken, saying: "Although all our condition is most perilous when we are most sure of our safety."

2. Sleeping at the post of duty (v. 37).
In one short hour the very one who was so confident of his self-sufficiency had fallen asleep instead of watching. The only way to escape from backsliding is to watch.

3. Lack of prayer (v. 38).
The legitimate inference from the Lord's words "Watch and pray" is that he had commanded them to pray as well as to watch. The reason there is so little prayer is due to the lack of the sense of need of God's help.

4. Misguided zeal (v. 47).
Peter drew a sword and cut off the ear of a servant of the high priest (John 18:10) when they came to arrest Jesus. He was thus zealous for the Lord. He was trying to make up in outward service his conscious lack of communion.

5. Followed Jesus afar off (v. 54).
Christ's rebuke for taking the sword and the awkward position in which his act had placed him caused him to follow after off. He keenly felt Christ's reprimand. Following Jesus afar off got him into trouble.

6. Warned himself at the enemy's fire (v. 67).
This fire was built by those who had come unsympathetically to witness the crucifixion and even to mock at the tragic hour. For Christ's disciples to try to get comfort from the things prepared for the satisfaction of His enemies is sinful. Many professing Christians are living a life of compromise, even attempting to get pleasures out of the things which the enemies of Christ have prepared for themselves.

7. Open denial (vv. 68-71).
Step by step downward Peter went until the words of a servant girl provoked open and blasphemous denial. This even by one who had said: "If I should die with thee I will not deny thee in any wise." Peter's trouble began when he shrank from the cross. It was that shunning which separated him from contact with God. It should be remembered that there can be no backsliding until there be established a position from which to slip. Many of the so-called backsliders have never been born again.

II. The Repentance of Peter (Luke 22:61-62).

1. The look of Jesus (v. 61).
This was a most wonderful look. It was doubtless filled with pity and pain. Christ knew the trials through which Peter and the other disciples would pass and He prayed for them. This look brought to Peter the full consciousness of his cowardice and his flagrant and his blasphemous words of denial, and yet it displayed His pity and forgiving love.

2. Peter's bitter tears (v. 62).
The look of Jesus brought conviction of sin. It called to mind his boastfulness and cowardice. How awful must have been his condition as he went out that night into the darkness, little suspecting that there would be found a way to get back into communion with his Lord. Doubtless the message from the women as they came from the tomb brought the first good cheer to his heart. Christ said to them: "Go and tell my disciples and Peter." This encouraged him, no doubt, as it indicated Christ's particular consideration and love for him.

Two Things Needed

There are two things that they need to possess, who are pilgrims; courage and an unspotted life.—John Bunyan.

Seeing and Talking

Men are born with two eyes, but with one tongue, that they may see twice as much as they say.—Cotton.

The Holy Ghost

No man is at his best until he is filled with the Holy Ghost.—Bohoss.

NEWRY—SUNDAY RIVER

Anson H. Kendall, a medical student, at Harvard College, spent the Easter vacation here, stopping at his uncle's, Joe Spinnery's, while calling on his neighbors and friends and looking after the home place. He said he very recently called on O. P. Littlehale and his son, Tracy, in Allston, and found him very feeble, being confined to his bed, but very much enjoyed visits from his friends.

William Williamson, familiarly known as "Bully" by natives of the River in District No. 3, spent a few days with his cousins, Harry and Earl Williamson, on the upland. Like all Riverites he likes to visit the scenes of his childhood.

Forrest Davenport and F. R. Sargent have been working for Mrs. Lea Buxton, repairing her barn.

HEBRON

There was considerable excitement caused by a fire in the vicinity, Saturday, the 16th. First a grass fire started in Academy lot, adjoining C. W. Cummings' wood lot. It required all the available men to put it out, but it had barely had time to eat their lunch, when another fire started near Hall's pond and could be seen by the dense smoke rising from the men who had been here noon in action again. Both fires were extinguished without serious loss.

Miss Marion Cummings, teacher in Hebron Academy, is at home for the Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harris have taken the Charles George house and expect to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bray.

Mrs. Maude Newcombe of Portland, called on friends here recently. Miss Helen Kingsley and friend accompanied her.

KEEPA FALLS

The Easter decorations at the M. E. Church, consisting of ferns and Easter lilies were pretty and appropriate. The sunrise service was attended by thirty-two people, while later on at the usual hour, one hundred and ninety were present. The service was with the singing of the "Hallelujah" anthem by the choir, Mrs. Helen E. Demerit and Miss Mae Pierce, who had returned after a protracted absence, renewed their membership in the church by letter, and later the interested audience watched two children receive the rite of baptism; one, a bright little fellow of about three years, and the other, a baby in arms, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Stocks, received the name of Norman Arthur Stocks at this point. The choir, again took part in the service and rendered the anthem, "Rejoice," followed by Scripture reading, the collection and the solo, "Easter Day," sung by Miss Genevieve Merryfield. The service was based on the eleventh verse, twentieth chapter of St. John, and was "good to hear." It might have been called one of Rev. Arthur Callaghan's best days; the afternoon found him at North Farnsworth, preaching to a congregation assembled in the "Friends' meeting house. Some part of the service was given by a marriage ceremony at the Sunday School concert in the evening, he was not found wanting.

April 11th, thirty-three of the town's representative people went to Cornish in response to Page Hille's invitation to a chicken dinner at the New Lincoln.

There was a very few fires a few miles beyond the village last week, that fishing lots of excitement and hard work. Malcolm Stanley has been the guest of his parents, for a week.

NORTH FRYEBURG

See That Beater!

It's mounted on the axle—that's why the John Deere is easier on you, easier on your horses, does better work and lasts longer.

JOHN DEERE SPREADER

The patented beater construction gives you these distinctive advantages:

1. A box 6 to 10 inches lower than others—much easier to load.
2. High drive wheels—4 to 8 inches higher than others—gives extra traction—extra power. Load moves back to beater on rollers—saves the horses.
3. The simplest spreader built—no clutches, no chains, no adjustments for you to make—reduces repair bills—the spreader lasts years longer.
4. Beater close to ground—does not throw manure high in air—winds do not cause drifting of manure—does better work. Patented revolving rake prevents bunching.

Come in and see this better spreader—there are many other features on it we want to show you.

Leslie Hobson has a fine flock of sheep and many early lambs. He is the only one in this community that raises sheep. It is a mystery why so few go into this business. The sheep industry was one of the farmer's best paying property a few years ago, when life was young with us. Although we lost many sheep and lambs, there still was enough left to make it pay. We cannot see why the bounty was taken off from bears. When the country is over run with them and the damage they do to sheep and young stock.

EAST WATERFORD

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Rolfe, wife of Cyrus W. Rolfe, of Albany, was held at her late home at 2 o'clock, Thursday, April 14. Rev. C. B. Oliver officiating. Interment was at West Bethel Flat. Mrs. Rolfe passed away Tuesday night after one week's illness.

She was born in Albany, in 1843, the daughter of Ira and Rebecca Mason, and has always lived in her native town, endeavoring herself to friends and neighbors, by whom she will be missed. In 1862 she was united in marriage with Cyrus W. Rolfe and eight children were born of this union, four of whom are now living. The Doubtless Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe were the oldest married couple in town and probably of the state, having been married 63 years at the time of her death. Much sympathy is felt for the husband, who is 90 years of age. Mrs. Rolfe was a member of the Free Will Baptist Church. She is survived by her husband, Cyrus Rolfe; four sons, Henry O. of East Waterford; Edwin W. of Albany; George M. of Readfield; Philip H. of Bethel; 21 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Hanover and Rumford Point gave a fine entertainment Easter Sunday, here at the schoolhouse.

It would help a lot if folks could live within their means and without their means.

Kezar Lake Minstrels

The Minstrel Show at North Lovell drew a Large Crowd, Regardless of Rain.

The night for the Kezar Lake Minstrels, at North Lovell, proved rainy, but at seven o'clock the crowd began to arrive and long before eight, standing room ceased to exist. Fully three hundred persons filled the Grange Hall to capacity and then some.

At eight sharp the curtain opened revealing an attractive setting of potted plants. The four ladies of the circle, gowned in red sleeveless gowns and red picture hats; the gentlemen soloists in conventional black and white; and the end men in dark trousers, white vests and red coats. The interludes were a yellow georgette evening gown.

The circle featured, "Come Over Tonight, I Want You," "That's the Pic," "Me, Too," "I Ain't Got Enough to Pass Around," "Down Along Some Shady Lane," "Unconsciously," "I'd Rather be the Girl in Your Arms," "My Tricicle from Dixie," "Somebody Lied."

The numbers were well done and the hits of fun in between were well appreciated. Many local "hits" found their mark in the crowd. Mr. McKee's personal version of "Somebody Lied" won much applause. The soloists were, Sophie Butters, Seymour Butters, Hester McKee, Prudent Bedard, Lottie Butters, Levi Butters, Hallie McKee, Ira McKee, Harry McKee, Harry McKee, and Hal McKee, Interludes, Mrs. Beryl Andrews was accompanist.

The opening number of the Olio was a juvenile Charleston by Muriel and little Prudent Bedard. It is interesting to note that Muriel is but three years old. Other numbers were; an Irish Woman's song by Mrs. McKee; Ira McKee's song "Barbara Files brought the house down with a negro clog dance number. They surely knew how to travel, those wooden-soled shoes; Levi Butters was exceptionally good in an Irish song, "The Night That Timothy Sheehan Married Daphney McGrew."

The closing attraction was the farce, "The Countess Millionaire". The cast was: General Pitt Previous, the Countess millionaire, Teddy Higginson, high-born aviator, Lucius Hamm, the Countess' valet, Omber Hamm, the Countess' maid, Lady Queen Sheba Previous, a social leader, Perfumery Previous, the belle of Coonville, Lillian, black beauty, Sophie Butters, Shaws Orchestra furnished music between acts and for the dance after the show. The entertainment was a success, both socially and financially.

Suppose you were awakened by "Fire!"—

A building next to yours a-fire! Perhaps a neighbor's house. Perhaps only a brush fire beyond control. Are your own buildings well enough protected against wind-driven sparks and blazing embers?

Barrett Roll Roofings will keep your buildings from this danger. They're thoroughly fire-safe.

Durable, too. Cannot rot or rust. We've had long experience with roofings, and we stand squarely behind Barrett Roofings. Come in and look them over.
